Signal Oak

Mary Brungardt...

A Baldwin City resident, Mary has been painting since 1960. She started painting while waiting for the birth of her first child. Mary has tried various mediums, but always returns to oils, her favorite.

"Color is the first thing I notice about anything. My mind immediately goes to what colors I would use to paint a scene-whether I'm looking at a stack of T-shirts, vegetables at the market, or a ribbon of redbud trees in an emerald green pasture. I work from photographs from my own imagination. My use of color is bright and intense. I get so much joy from painting, and I always say that the time you spend painting does not count off your life."

A portrait - Mary Swan

T. J. Harrison

Presenting a series of non-traditional portraits of a group of six area women. Known collectively to the Wednesday morning regulars at the Baldwin Diner as the Baldwin Biddies Breakfast Bunch, they include Mary Swan, June Jewett, and Margaret "Peggy" Baker.
